CoreNet Long Island's next event is titled, "Technology Forum – The Future of Work." The event will be held on Thursday, October 19 from 4 - 7 p.m.

The concept of work is changing in ways that were barely conceivable a few years ago and that will be barely recognizable in a few years. Technology is influencing and infiltrating virtually every aspect of work and the workplace. Attendees will hear from strategic leaders who are helping corporate real estate leaders manage and, in some ways, anticipate technological change.

Panelists include the following:

- Peter Miscovich, managing director, JLL.
- Anita Napoli, consultant, applied research & consulting, Steelcase.
- Carol Schwasnick, senior director, workplace solutions, CA Technologies.

The event will be held at CA Technologies, 1 Computer Associates Plaza in Islandia. Visit <http://longisland.corenetglobal.org/> for more information.
