

Gallishaw named investment sales associate at Highcap Group

December 19, 2017 - Front Section

New York, NY Ty Gallishaw is an investment sales associate at Highcap Group LLC.

Being born and raised in New York City gives Gallishaw an advantage when discovering hidden gems throughout the New York real estate emerging markets. He started out as a residential agent eight years ago, but quickly realized that he enjoyed working directly with sellers and investors and transitioned into investment sales.

Prior to his career in real estate, Gallishaw built a timeshare resorts marketing firm and spent time on Wall St. as a stockbroker. He has an extensive background in business and marketing and thinks and acts outside the box to create business and to build a broad client base. Gallishaw connects naturally with both customers and clients and understands the importance of providing personalized service and attention to details.