"I am honored to be a part of this elite group of companies that call the Avenue of the Americas home. Salesforce Tower New York joins our family of Towers across the globe in San Francisco, Indianapolis and London. As part of our 1-1-1 model, Salesforce is committed to donating 1% of our equity, time and products to the communities that make up our Ohana ("family" in Hawaiian). We're excited to continue our growth in New York and bring together the collaboration and energy that makes our Salesforce culture so unique." said executive vice president, Global Real Estate Elizabeth Pinkham.

The Association partnered with Macy's to bring the first hip-hop performance specially produced for the 2017 Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade, 34th and PHUNK. This group of talented individuals ranged from ages 6 to 27, and represented 10 different states. They were hand selected from a group of 300 dancers who auditioned last September and enthused the audience for the events to take place post performance. Gala attendees were treated to a specially choreographed performance by the group before their big debut three days later at the parade.

The Avenue of the Americas Association is a civic improvement corporation that promotes the commercial welfare of “America’s Corporate Corridor” and New York City. The Avenue of Americas, a thoroughfare of approximately four miles long, is one of the City’s most exciting locations, boasting impressive architecture, corporate headquarters, restaurants, entertainment, cultural attractions, parks, plazas and business districts. The Association acts as an intermediary with government agencies and officials, and provides its membership with information on proposed laws and actions that will affect them. Issues such as transportation, physical improvements, signage, public safety, economic growth and homelessness are some of the challenges addressed by the Association in recent years.
