Eleven Hancock in Harlem - Manhattan, NY

Manhattan, NY According to Nortco Development, sales have commenced at Eleven Hancock in Harlem, a ground-up condominium located at 11 Hancock Place south of 125th St. near Morningside Park.

Designed by Issac & Stern Architects with interiors by Lemay + Escobar, Eleven Hancock features cantilevered design highlighted by a façade of alternating horizontal zinc- and rust-colored bands. Industrial inspired windows will showcase the building's exposed diagonal beams encased in finished concrete.

Sales at Eleven Hancock Place will be led by Halstead Development Marketing from a sales gallery where interested buyers will be able to tour the neighborhood via an interactive 3D map of Harlem, view floorplans on large screen TVs via an interactive sales tool, and view a built-out model kitchen and bathroom. The sales office is located at 2298 Frederick Douglass Blvd. and is a first for new construction condominiums in Harlem.

Scheduled for completion in mid-2020, the 12-story, 130,000 s/f building will comprise 71 studio, one, two, three and four-bedroom residences; nearly 50% of homes at Eleven Hancock Place will feature private outdoor space.

Lemay + Escobar designed the residences at Eleven Hancock which will feature 7" wide European white oak flooring throughout, industrial-inspired floor-to-ceiling windows, high-performance multi-zone heating and cooling systems, separate in-unit Miele washers and dryers, USB charging outlets and prewired cable, data and telephone connections. Some units will also boast private rooftop cabanas with preinstalled BBQs and sinks.

Italian-crafted kitchens by Cesar feature Noce Moro and Pearl Gray Cesar cabinetry, Kohler matte black faucets and Calacatta quartz countertops and backsplashes. Miele refrigerators, gas cooktops and ovens are complimented by 15" Summit wine fridges and undermounted Kohler sinks.
