

Meet the ICSC Members: Catapano and Welles

August 11, 2010 - Shopping Centers

As vice president of Catapano Engineering, P.C., Mark Catapano manages all areas of business operations, production, client satisfaction, marketing and financials to accomplish company goals. The management of production, quality and competitive rate structures has gained the firm a reputation of integrity and quality. With an aggressive approach toward growth, Catapano commits to obtaining client feedback to ensure satisfaction of services, and as a result, builds stable long term business relationships.

Catapano also gives back to the community by supporting civic and charity organizations and is chairman of the Board for the Melville Chamber of Commerce that acts as a liaison for governmental interaction, promotes local businesses and betters the community.
