

Company Profiles: Rosenbaum Design Group

March 21, 2011 - Shopping Centers

Since its inception in 1964 by its founding principal Roy Rosenbaum, AIA, Rosenbaum Design Group Architecture Engineering, P.C. has designed thousands of multi-scale commercial structures. Experience is the unshakable foundation on which RDG has built a solid reputation and a loyal customer base. We offer the speed, flexibility and personal service of a small firm and the expansive resources and expertise of a large, diversified firm. The result: projects are completed on time, within budget and to the satisfaction of clients' business goals and aesthetic sensibilities.

We take exceptional pride in a diverse staff of fastidious professionals and support personnel who share creative ideas and a commitment to client service. Ours is a multi-cultural, multi-talented, broadly experienced group that brings fresh perspective to every job. They are characterized by a spirit of ingenuity, and a dedication to combining design excellence and practical architectural procedures. Our staff knows what it takes to get a project from the drawing board to bricks-and-mortar form. They understand that successful commercial architecture - whether renovation or new buildings -- is in the details; every job must incorporate a thorough knowledge of current construction regulations, methods and materials, store merchandising and sales psychology. They recognize the impact of relevant site-specific, physical, social and economic factors.

We are committed to full-scale, personal service through every phase of an assignment, beginning with feasibility studies, and ending only when the client is satisfied. RDG excels in the fundamentals of project development. Our in-house team is also fluent in the process of securing permits, Certificates of Occupancy and other critical paperwork, eliminating the headache of what can be a confusing, time-intensive task for the uninitiated.

Our turnkey operation includes access to a selected number of top-quality specialty consultants. RDG's long-standing relationship with these trustworthy associates has expanded our technical expertise and enabled us to deliver projects with precise construction documents.

Throughout the years, we have consistently implemented organizational practices that ensure our customers' best interests.
