April 25, 2011 - Long Island

According to P.W. Grosser Consulting, (PWGC) the firm has been awarded a 1st place win in the first Annual National A/E/C Best Employer Award for mid-size firms presented by PSMJ Resources Inc (PSMJ). PSMJ's A/E/C Best Employer Award seeks to find firms who are truly the Best A/E/C Employers. To be a Best A/E/C Employer, PSMJ looks for firms which demonstrate that its employees are not just satisfied, they must be truly engaged and who not only have highly engaged employees, but keep their employees engaged by providing them with the kinds of professional career opportunities that come from a growing, profitable firm. Along with looking at look growth, profitability and employee turnover, PSMJ conducted an independent, confidential survey that PWGC team members participated in and the results were benchmarked against other A/E/C firms that participated in the survey. The award winners excelled in three critical business areas which included being a highly engaged workforce, growth in the firm's workforce, and superior profitability. PWGC's president and founder Dr. Paul Grosser said, "I am proud that our employees think so highly of the firm. They are our most important asset."

Winners were announced at the A/E/C Industry HR Summit on March 17-18, 2011 in Orlando, Florida. The conference was a senior-level HR event and PWGC's Director of HR, Deanna Lantieri, was on hand at the conference to accept the award. Congratulations PWGC!
