

Gordon joins Sabre Real estate as a senior associate

February 13, 2012 - Shopping Centers

Amanda Gordon has joined Long Island's newest retail real estate advisory firm, Sabre Real Estate Group LLC, as a senior associate.

Gordon, 25, previously a sales associate at Breslin Realty, began her commercial real estate career at age 20 while attending Hofstra University. She received a bachelor of business administration degree in 2008. As one of the youngest brokers in the industry, she quickly gained recognition among her colleagues, finding her niche working primarily as a landlord representative, filling some of L.I.'s most notable shopping centers with tenants ranging from local operators to national chains.

"Amanda Gordon uses her market vision and strong tenant and landlord relationships to make the perfect match," said Jayson Siano, managing principal of Sabre. "Her passion and drive for real estate makes her a terrific addition to the Sabre Real Estate team."

Gordon, a resident of Roslyn, said she decided to go into real estate because it was the subject of dinner table talk in her family's home. Her father is an investor in some properties owned by Philips International.

Gordon is a member of The Retail Network.

In her spare time Gordon participates in extreme sports activities including shooting, sky diving, white water rafting, rock climbing, snow boarding, bob sledding, free sledding and more, all of which she chronicles on her personal web site, www.crazyadventuresagstyle.com.
