Stribling & Associates, one of New York's premier residential brokerage firms, has been nominated for Best Real Estate Website in the 16th Annual Webby Awards. Hailed as the "Internet's highest honor" by The New York Times, Stribling joins past nominees like Twitter, Google, eBay, and iTunes as one of the Internet's mainstays of celebrated web-design.

"We are thrilled that the website that our team launched as part of Stribling & Associates' rebranded image has been honored by the prestigious Webby Awards," said Elizabeth Ann Kivlan, director of marketing and business development at Stribling.
