

T.M. Bier & Associates expands its security solutions line

July 16, 2012 - Design / Build

T.M. Bier & Associates, one of the New York metropolitan area's leading independent controls systems integrators and engineering firms, has expanded its security solutions line with the announcement that the company has earned the Authorized & Factory-Trained Dealer designation from DSX Access Systems, Inc.m, one of the leading manufacturers of hardware, software and integrated solutions for the access control and security industries. In earning the designation, TMBA demonstrated that it has both the qualifications and expertise to design, sell, install and service DSX's integrated solutions and applications for their client's advanced access control requirements. DSX's access control system is comprised of a full-featured client server application which leverages the power of Windows 32 and 64 bit operating systems. When coupled with the latest in scalable controller hardware, the system becomes a robust and fully-integrated access control solution. Among the distinguishing features of the DSX access control solution are its: 32-bit access control application, ability to control one door or serve in multiple-locations and an enterprise-wide application, use of the TCP/IP messaging protocol to interface with existing LANs/WANs, integral photo ID badge option, full CCTV/camera control and digital video integration, alarm echo/alarm monitoring, visitor management, data import capability, time and attendance function, and multiple access levels per cardholder. The DSX access control system also provides workstation event routing, elevator control and guard tour applications.

TMBA president Ted Bier said, "With our company's growing involvement in the security arena, we felt it was important that we be able to offer our clients a selection of 'Best in Class' security solutions. DSX's access control systems clearly fall in that category and are widely-recognized for their high performance and reliability. We expect this newest line will be of great interest to our clients across all markets - hospitals, universities, multi-family residences, hotels, and office and municipal buildings. Further, as a business partner, DSX shares our commitment to excellent service as evidenced by its 24/7/365 technical support, continued education and training for its employees and dealers, and emphasis on sound, leading-edge technology."
