February 25, 2008 - Upstate New York

Again this year the two pre-eminent real estate organizations will again join forces to bring the premier commercial and residential real estate networking event of the year, the IREM / BOMA Vendor Fair. Every year these two great organizations join to assist a worthy charitable organization and provide their respective members an opportunity to discover the latest tools, equipment and information available to help them manage their commercial and residential properties.

This year the IREM / BOMA Vendor Fair will raise funds for Families of Spinal Muscular Atrophy, an organization dedicated to saving the lives of individuals afflicted with SMA, the number one killer of children under the age of two. The IREM / BOMA Vendor Fair has been successful at raising funds and awareness for Mercy Flight, The American Red Cross, American Heart Association, Salvation Army, Hunter's Hope, Continuing Developmental Services, Breast Cancer Research and many other worthy organizations.
