

Dan and Naomi Harel open Invision Design Partners

October 29, 2012 - Upstate New York

Invision Design Partners, LLC, a locally-owned interior design firm providing customer-focused solutions that are unique to their needs, taste and budget has recently opened. Dan and Naomi Harel, ASID are principals.

Their service benefits from over 60 years of practice in the field. Solutions are designed to be a reflection of the user's requirements and style and include aesthetic ambience, engaging character, functionality, efficiency, tastefulness and quality/value sensitivity. They design a variety of home and commercial environments including custom furniture and products where applicable. Invision's renderings of space planning, interior layouts and products are provided in 2D and 3D CAD.

They are American Society of Interior Designers and National Council for Interior Design Qualification certified and hold high academic degrees in multiple fields of design.

Dan Harel is also currently teaching design in the College of Imaging Arts and Sciences at Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT).

Some of their recent projects include:

- * Interior updates for residential spaces with all color, finish and material selections and coordination comprised of furnishings, flooring, wall and window treatments, lighting, paint colors, accessories and art;
- * Home-office designs;
- * Basement remodeling including play, TV/theater environments, exercise, craft/hobby and organized storage areas;
- * Kitchen & bath designs;
- * Custom furniture designs of entertainment centers and unique storage and display pieces; and
- * Design and space planning of office interiors for efficiency and functionality including all furnishings and ergonomic needs.
