

Hill International's New York City Hall project receives Platinum Award

November 09, 2012 - Design / Build

According to Hill International, the company has been recognized for its work managing the $93.5 million modernization of New York City Hall. The project has received a Platinum Award in connection with Building Design + Construction magazine's 29th Annual Reconstruction Awards. In this year's Annual Reconstruction Awards, detailed in the magazine's October issue, there were 11 projects that were recognized with awards. New York City Hall was one of only two projects that received the highest award, the Platinum Award.

"This was a very experienced team that executed a spectacular restoration of an important symbol of New York City," said Reconstruction Awards honorary chair Walker Johnson, FAIA. "Great attention to detail resulted in an exquisite, newly restored structure."

"Our entire project team is honored to have been recognized with this prestigious award," said Michael Brothers, Hill's VP in charge of the project.

Building Design + Construction magazine serves the information and lifetime learning needs of architects, engineers, contractors and property owners at design, build and owning firms in commercial, industrial, institutional and multifamily construction. For more information on Building Design + Construction, please visit their website at www.bdcnetwork.com.

Hill International, with 3,300 employees in 110 offices worldwide, provides program management, project management, construction management and construction claims and consulting services. Engineering News-Record magazine recently ranked Hill as the 8th largest construction management firm in the United States. For more information on Hill, please visit our website at www.hillintl.com.

The Hill International, Inc. logo is available at <http://www.globenewswire.com/newsroom/prs/?pkgid=5733>

New York Real Estate Journal - 17 Accord Park Drive #207, Norwell MA 02061 - (781) 878-4540