

BL Cos. moves into new space in King of Prussia

December 27, 2012 - Front Section

King of Prussia, PA According to BL Cos., a multi-disciplinary architecture, engineering, environmental and land surveying firm, providing services to public and private clients in the northeast and mid-Atlantic, the firm has moved its office to a new, larger space to accommodate the growth of their mid-Atlantic team. The new office space is twice the size of the prior space and minutes away.

"This expansion has been planned as part of our overall regional growth strategy," said Michael Lozanoff, PE, director of engineering for BL's mid-Atlantic region. "We have almost doubled the number of employees in our King of Prussia office in 2012 and anticipate additional growth into 2013. This expanded office will enable us to fill key positions continue to provide our clients excellent service in this geographic area."

Being able to offer our services and client care in close proximity to our clients and projects has been a foundation of BL's long-term strategy. Our King of Prussia expansion supports our Mid-Atlantic growth strategy and the anticipated needs from our energy, retail/commercial and public infrastructure clients. Our team possesses the specific technical expertise needed to deliver exceptional quality and responsiveness within these markets, while remaining competitive.

Carolyn Stanworth, president and CEO of BL Cos., said, "This continues to be an exciting time for BL. Our expanding presence throughout the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast reflects the success of our growth strategy and further establishes our commitment to providing a high level of service to our clients and projects in these regions and beyond."
