Joe has also been instrumental in promoting local state chapters in all the states that he teaches in America and abroad.

Thinking about becoming a CCIM, want to learn cutting edge technology, then take a ten minute break, go to www.CCIM.com click on "Institute & Education" then "Site to Do Business" to see what a great organization this is, and why you should expose yourself to this high level of real estate knowledge. Lastly click on "CCIM Chapters" go to your state and view upcoming events and start your new career in learning cutting edge technology to become a CCIM. I challenge you to call any CCIM and ask if that investment of their time and money has not provided them a return many times over.
