

Newmark Grubb Knight Frank elevates three to senior managing director: Greenstein, Levine and Friedman

February 25, 2013 - New York City

Newmark Grubb Knight Frank (NGKF) has promoted three executives at its local headquarters office to the position of senior managing director. Jason Greenstein, Daniel Levine and Joshua Friedman each have been with the firm for a little more than a decade.

Greenstein focuses on tenant representation, advising a number of prominent corporations, including HQ moves for clients. A member of REBNY and YMWREA, Greenstein was appointed to NGKF's Young Leadership Council in 2011.

Levine has expertise advising tenants and landlords in the local market, as well as handling international requirements for clients. He was appointed to NGKF's Young Leadership Council in 2012.

Greenstein and Levine both joined NGKF in 2001. As a team, the two negotiated more than 40 transactions in 2012, totaling over one million s/f.

Friedman joined NGKF in 2002. He is one of the tri-state region's top brokers specializing in the representation of tenants within the financial services industry. He was appointed to NGKF's Young Leadership Council in 2011.

"Jason, Danny and Josh have established themselves as terrific, highly respected brokers and are among the industry's finest within their generation," said David Falk, NGKF's president for the Tri-State region. "They have ascended quickly here at NGKF due to their incomparable work ethic, ability and exceptional client relations."
