Parsons Brinckerhoff to provide construction management services for NYS Office of General Services

May 13, 2013 - Design / Build

NYS Office of General Services has awarded contracts to Parsons Brinckerhoff to provide construction management services in the downstate and upstate regions.

Under the on-call contracts, Parsons Brinckerhoff will provide construction management services in all phases of project delivery, from preconstruction through closeout. Projects may include veterans' homes, correctional facilities, government office buildings, and mental health institutions. The scope of projects will range from renovations to the construction of new facilities and will include constructability reviews, scheduling, estimating, construction inspections, and project management.

Parsons Brinckerhoff is a leader in developing and operating infrastructure around the world, with 14,000 employees dedicated to meeting the needs of clients and communities in the Americas, Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Asia and Australia-Pacific regions.

The firm offers skills and resources in strategic consulting, planning, engineering, program/construction management, and operations for transportation, power, mining, water/wastewater, and community development projects. Parsons Brinckerhoff is part of Balfour Beatty, an international infrastructure services business operating in professional services, construction services, support services and infrastructure investments (www.pbworld.com).
