

10-23-2013 - BOMA/NY to hold Q&A with candidates for three citywide offices

September 09, 2013 - Design / Build

On October 23rd it is your turn to ask the questions of candidates for N.Y.C.'s three citywide offices—mayor, comptroller and public advocate—at the Building Owners & Managers Association New York New York (BOMA/NY) Annual Conference and Leadership Breakfast.

The fact that all these key positions are vacant and can affect the next 12 years of city governance prompted BOMA/NY to take the initiative and invite the candidates to talk with you about the issues affecting our industry. A question and answer session will follow.

Joe Lhota, Republican candidate for mayor, has already accepted, and we'll be inviting the Democratic primary winner pending the September 10th primary results.

Make sure to join them as they will also be announcing the results of BOMA/NY's own elections for officers and directors for the upcoming year.

Please contact Sylvester Giustino at sylvester@bomany.com to find out more about attending.
