

Inzirillo joins Racanelli Construction as a project manager

April 07, 2014 - Long Island

According to Racanelli Construction Company, Inc., a leading construction management, general contractor and design/build resource for commercial, industrial, retail, medical, pre-engineered and multi-unit residential projects, Anthony Inzirillo has joined the firm as a project manager. In this role, he will apply extensive experience and skills in project management, estimating and cost control to effectively manage all aspects of company projects, from subcontractor supervisions and construction materials procurement to cost controls and schedule monitoring to assure high quality, on-budget and on-time project delivery. Since joining Racanelli, Inzirillo has been managing such projects as the Brookhaven Hospital Hyperbaric Wound Care Center, a demolition project on Fulton St. in Brooklyn, and the construction of a Bronx Surgery Center facility.

Directly prior to joining Racanelli, Inzirillo served as a senior project manager with S. Di Giacomo & Son, Inc., where he was involved in the construction of banking facilities, interior tenant fit outs, trading floors, retail space, new buildings and school renovations.

In addition to his position at S. Di Giacomo & Son, Inzirillo was a project manager/vice president in charge of interior construction projects with HC Kranichfeld, Inc. He began his professional career as a design engineer for M and E Consulting, Inc. (Lafayette, LA), a mechanical and electrical engineering firm.

Inzirillo's higher education includes his degree from New York Institute of Design and Construction from which he graduated with 126 credits in Construction Engineering. Additionally, he holds a Bachelor's degree in Construction Management from New York University. He has successfully completed a 10-hour OSHA Certification program.

With roots dating back five decades ago, Racanelli Construction is a family business with a long legacy of commercial/industrial real estate building and development. The company serves its diverse clientele as a construction manager, general contractor or complete design/build resource. The company's services are applied in the construction of corporate/industrial, healthcare, retail, hospitality/restaurant, educational, residential, religious, storage and pre-engineered buildings.

Its highly qualified team of professionals and application of sound business processes with state-of-the-art technologies combine to facilitate high quality, on-time and on-budget projects. Racanelli Construction's long history and impeccable reputation as a high quality builder/developer has earned the company a broad bonding capacity as well as AAA Insurance coverage. Racanelli maintains excellent working relationships with local municipalities, business and civic associations, and elected officials. These relationships accrue considerable benefits to Racanelli's clients when seeking financing/bonding, zoning approvals and support from the local community. Racanelli Construction Company executives are active members of the local community, serving on nonprofit organizations' boards and participating in various philanthropic activities.
