

NYREJ's Wolf named a charter member of 100 Women Who Care

July 14, 2014 - Long Island

Kristine Wolf, publishing director of the New York Real Estate Journal (NYREJ), is a charter member of 100 Women Who Care about Long Island and a supporter of their mission. Although living in Boston, she has consistently promoted 100 Women Who Care about Long Island in NYREJ's Long Island section, with the insertion of each news release issued as well as advertisements. "I am not involved with any specific charitable organizations, and my financial donations have always been directed to causes that I feel personally connected to through friends, family members and colleagues," said Wolf. "Minutes into the inaugural meeting in July 2013, I knew that 100 Women Who Care about Long Island was something that I needed to be a part of. Despite the fact that I had no personal connection to the selected charity, I was empowered by the feeling that it was no longer just another $100 donation to a cause, but 100 women, who care about Long Island, all joining together to contribute $10,000 for one cause."
