

Thru the Lens: Skanska's New York office teams up with NYC Service to clean up Maple Playground

August 25, 2014 - Front Section

Recently, more than 50 employees from Skanska USA's New York office teamed up with NYC Service, an organization committed to engaging New York City in public service, to clean up the Maple Playground in Flushing in honor of Skanska's Community Service Day. The Skanska team raked, swept, and painted the park and playground, in an effort to help refurbish green space in Queens for better and safer public use.
