

25 Year Anniversary Q&A: Lori Ann Simon

August 26, 2014 - Spotlights

Name: Lori Ann Simon

Title: Executive Director

Company: DPC New York, Inc.

Q: Your most memorable "15 minutes of fame" in the NYREJ:

A: NYREJ has given me the opportunity to share valuable information with the real estate and construction industry, and to be educated by others. I've appreciated being an active contributor for over 18 years on topics relevant to facade restoration, roofing and Green practices. My most memorable moment was my first published article for NYREJ in 1996 'Fall Maintenance for your Building,' while employed as Marketing director at Kay Waterproofing. It was well received and reprinted through other publications. It helped launch me as a knowledgeable, well-qualified woman in this field (then) defined primarily as a male dominated industry. And to now be recognized to current executive status with DPC New York, Inc. is a grand place to be.
