

Commtech Design selects Infusion Direct Marketing as its agency of record

November 11, 2014 - Design / Build

According to Commtech Design, a leading technology design firm, the company has expanded its public relations efforts and has retained Infusion Direct Marketing as their agency of record. Commtech will be utilizing Infusion's public relations expertise in the security industry to help build awareness about the benefits of working with a technology design consultant and gain exposure in the security industry.

"We are very excited to be expanding our marketing efforts and to work with Infusion Direct Marketing to help us achieve our marketing and sales goals with targeted Public Relations campaigns," said Bret Emerson, Commtech's president "The opportunity for us to educate the security industry on the services provided by technology consultants through Infusion's security connections will be a great asset to our company."

Infusion Direct Marketing has worked with numerous security integrators and manufacturers over the last seven years and is looking forward to representing one of the leading design consultants in the security industry," said Monique Merhige, Infusion Direct Marketing's president "We are excited to work with the Commtech team and look forward to our joint success."
