What are you looking forward to accomplishing in 2015?

Our concentration on Increasing ownership in commercial properties in the greater New York area was particularly successful in 2014, We increased our ownership In that category by over 25% and we continue to pursue that goal.

What are some of your real estate predictions for 2015?

We are extremely optimistic that well located residential and commercial properties will continue to increase in value due to low interest rates and dramatically higher land values and the increasing cost of new construction.
