

The annual BuildingsNY to take place April 28 - 29 at the Javits Convention Center; Featuring 100 new vendors focused on helping to drive more profits for buildings

April 27, 2015 - Spotlights

Are you proud to be a New York building owner or manager? Do you have specific challenges that you need solutions for? Are you looking to save money on your building? If you've answered yes to any of these questions, then mark your calendars for the BuildingsNY event, taking place April 28 - 29 at the Javits Convention Center in N.Y.C. This year's event will feature over 400 Exhibitors, with 100 new vendors focused on helping you drive more profits for your buildings. In addition, you won't want to miss the free education panels on the hottest, leading edge topics presented by the ABO, BOMA/NY, CHIP, NYARM, and AIA. At BuildingsNY 2015, you will find a year's worth of solutions in just two days.

BuildingsNY 2015 continues to evolve to better suit the industry's needs. We listened to your feedback and made many changes to build you a better show. We have deeper relationships with current and new partners, ABO (the show founder), BOMA/NY, CHIP, NYARM, S.P.O.N.Y, AIA and our VIP lounge sponsor LandlordsNY.

We're expecting to welcome over 7,000 industry professionals to this year's event. BuildingsNY is where hundreds of vendors will be displaying products for every phase of a building's lifecycle. You will see new products and services in richer categories including building automation, energy management, financing, restoration and renovation, design & construction, environmental, maintenance & operations and security and disaster relief. Sourcing products and services will be a productive and time-saving experience.

Our key industry partners have developed a 2-day complimentary program on the hottest NY/NJ/CT Building topics designed to help you.
