

nyrej

Toll Brothers City Living celebrates topping out of 121 East 22nd Street; Designed by Shigematsu of OMA

July 18, 2017 - Design / Build

Shown (from left) are: Michael Krupa, president, Gemdale; Paul Gingold, VP, CMA; David Von Spreckelsen, division president, Toll Brothers City Living; Chris Mesbah, owner/president, CMA; George Milhalis, senior project manager, CMA; and Brett Rubin, head of development, east coast, Gemdale.

New York, NY On June 23rd, Toll Brothers City Living and Gemdale Properties and Investments held the topping out of 121 East 22nd St., a 140-residence, full-service residential condominium in Gramercy, designed by architect Shohei Shigematsu of the Office of Metropolitan Architecture (OMA), the firm founded by Rem Koolhaas. 121 East 22nd St. is being built by construction firm CM & Associates (CMA).

Located one block north of Gramercy Park, the development offers diverse layouts, a contemporary aesthetic, and a full complement of amenities.

Building completion is slated for fall 2018 with sales and marketing by Toll Brothers City Living. The sales gallery is located at 45 East 20th St., 11th floor.

New York Real Estate Journal - 17 Accord Park Drive #207, Norwell MA 02061 - (781) 878-4540