What was your most notable project, deal, transaction or professional achievement in 2018?

The most notable window project I led this year was for the new luxury apartment complex The Lenox in Jersey City, N.J. Crystal Windows supplied over 2,000 energy efficient architectural aluminum windows combined to create expansive window walls for this development. The Lenox's location provides residents with stunning views of the waterfront and New York City. While The Lenox is not Crystal's largest project by far, I feel it is so noteworthy because it is part of the renaissance of Paulus Hook, a once-blighted section of Jersey City, now one of the hottest neighborhoods of upscale residences.
