"We believe they will benefit from 1675 Broadway's outstanding views, state of the art connectivity, convenient access to transportation, and prime location steps from Times Sq. and Central Park."

"We are very excited about relocating our office headquarters, just a couple of blocks from our current location in Midtown which will keep our many vibrant practice groups in the heart of Manhattan for years to come. Situated on the top floors of 1675 Broadway, the great views and efficient floor plates, coupled with the excellent amenities, a quality landlord we know and respect and central location in the heart of New York City was of the utmost importance when choosing a new location," said Mark Maltz, co-chair of Davis & Gilbert's Real Estate Practice."

Built in 1989 by Jack and Lewis Rudin, the handsome green-gray Canadian granite office building at 1675 Broadway was constructed using the air rights over the adjacent Broadway Theatre. The property is Wired Certified Platinum, recognizing its best-in-class internet infrastructure and connectivity. It is close to the 7th Ave. B/D/E and the 57th St. N/Q/R/W subway, which offers a direct connection to the Second Ave. subway.
