52 Greene St. is a mixed-use office and retail building located in the SoHo neighborhood, between Grant and Broome Sts. Encompassing 5,029 s/f across three stories and a finished basement, 52 Greene has one ground-level retail suite and two floor-through office units.

With 4,346 s/f of additional air rights, the sales team said, "The retail market continued to correct and reset throughout the entire process, leaving investors uncertain about future projections."

"Ultimately, we connected with a buyer who saw value in the available air rights to make this a successful transaction."
