FTI Consulting will consolidate multiple offices into the space, which will serve as its NYC headquarters.

“We are pleased that FTI Consulting will join the prestigious community of tenants in the building,” said Edward Minskoff. “We have recently completed a comprehensive renovation of the property, and we continue to expand services and amenities for our tenants.”

“Minskoff has continually invested to enhance 1166 Avenue of the Americas, further positioning the property as a leading Midtown office destination,” said Glickman, vice chairman with JLL. “Edward Minskoff has curated the lobby with extraordinary artwork, creating a distinct aesthetic for the entire property.”

Minskoff is creating a 12,000 s/f, multi-purpose conference center on the 12th floor of the building. This follows a redesign by Gensler of the building's lobby, lighting, outdoor canopies and security features.
