How do you keep your team motivated despite conflicts and obstacles?

Real estate investment sales is fundamentally composed of problem solving; therefore, it is essential to our development as a team that we use conflicts and obstacles as motivation to learn and grow. Ensuring that we attack conflicts head-on allows for us to become more creative and critical in our thinking and how we manage our portfolios, therefore driving us to work harder and ultimately accomplish more. The more motivated we are by conflicts and challenges, the better brokers we become and the better we can service our clients. My mission is to continue approaching these obstacles with the same vigor and boldness as this team has been doing for years before me.
