How has your working environment changed over the last year?

We equip employees with face shields, masks, gloves, sanitizing wipes, paper towels, and mandate their use. Crews also take extra precaution in cleaning equipment before a shift and after each use, and do a job-site audit. COVID has put a spotlight on the importance of worker health and safety, and American contractors responded by implementing new job-site policies such as staggered shifts, employee temperature checks and top-to-bottom disinfections of job sites, tools and machinery. It's about due diligence at the job site. Proper sanitation and PPE protocols are easy to implement when employees handle their job in a professional manner.
