November 19, 2007 - Upstate New York

Acquest Holdings has recently agreed to purchase 2.2 million s/f of the former Eastman Kodak Co. warehouse space.

The CBRE/Rochester office oversaw the auction of the Kodak Park South complex, in which Acquest outbid four other companies.

The 330-acre Kodak property contains two buildings, 200,000 s/f and 2 million s/f respectively. The buildings had previously been used for the storage and warehousing operations for film and photo-related products.

According to William Huntress, president of Acquest, Care Stream will lease 150,000 s/f and Kodak will lease another 200,000 s/f on a month-to-month basis.
