August 09, 2022 - Long Island

Port Jefferson Station, NY Since 1981, the family-owned and operated A1 Roofing has provided top-quality roofing services to the people of the tri-state area. They pride themselves on being a reliable and knowledgeable company that their clients can trust. In 2021, the company celebrated 40 years in the roofing business. They are always up to date with the most modern technologies, including solar shingles.

A1 Roofing offers roof installations for both residential and commercial properties. In their 40 years of business, they have never turned down a project for being too big or small. Back in 1981, John and Nancy Malizia started A1 Roofing from their home. By 1989, the business was registered as a legitimate company and was quickly building a name for itself on Long Island. Now, A1 Roofing is owned and operated by John and Vincent Malizia, who took over their family business after spending decades working in the different positions of the company. John and Vincent have spent years learning and growing the business. Under their help, leadership and expertise A1 Roofing has grown and expanded as a top roofing contractor in New York, even opening up an office in New York City.

In 1995, A1 Roofing was a recognized name in the New York region. The team builds customer relationships, which is why clients always return when their next project arises. Instead of paying overhead costs to hire subcontractors and a sales team, they handle it all themselves and pass the savings down to each customer they serve.

When you choose to work with A1 Roofing, you will experience the A1 difference. In addition to being a family-owned and operated team, the personalized service is a cut above the rest. Clients get to know the people who work on their roofs and see how much they have invested in the business's success. A1 takes pride in their core values and live by them every day: Safety, integrity, trust, customer experience, and innovation.

The A1 team is committed to safety and quality. When they show up to work on your roof, it's not just another job for them. They assess your commercial building to ensure that everyone is safe while on the property, including employees and every contractor on the job. Then, they get to work and deliver high-quality results. Whether clients choose asphalt or solar shingles, their home or business will become the beacon of the neighborhood, presenting an upgraded and refreshed exterior design. A1 is insured for all projects large and small to protect their clients' home or business, and all of A1's field employees have OSHA certifications. At A1 Roofing, safety is taken very seriously, and the goal is to make sure that all projects are completed safely, efficiently, and beautifully.

A1 Roofing prides itself on keeping its clients' business in business by providing a roof that will last. A1 Roofing maintains an honorable reputation and track record for the installation, maintenance, and repair of more than 10,000 roofs across the tri-state area since 1981. A1's full-spectrum expertise—from routine roof repairs to large construction projects, working hand in hand with solar contractors—has earned their roofing company the highest referrals and repeat business in the industry. A1 Roofing can offer commercial businesses security that their roof replacement, repair, and maintenance will be completed by a team that takes pride in their work.

This roofing team only works with the best materials in the business. They look into new suppliers as new materials are released, being sure to keep up with the latest technology. They are proud to use durable building products from only the top-name manufacturers including Carlisle, GAF, Henry, Versico, Kemper, Soprema, ATAS, and more. The state-of-the-art roofing supplies protect businesses from wind, rain, and the beating sun. Not only that, but clients also increase the energy efficiency of their businesses when they get a new roof. In addition, A1 Roofing is proud to be a GAF Master Elite installer, a title awarded only to GAF's most trusted roofing contractors.

As for their residential roofing ventures and their strive to be leaders in innovation, A1 Roofing is one of the only solar shingle installers in the Long Island area specially chosen by manufacturer GAF to introduce their solar roofing shingles to homeowners. GAF Timberline solar shingles are quality shingles for your roof that last just as long as asphalt shingles. They also lay flat on the roof, enhancing the home's curb appeal. Instead of adding stress to the roof as solar panels do, GAF solar shingles are installed in place of asphalt shingles. The sleek design is a less bulky alternative to solar panels. Solar shingles offer a more uniform roofline so that the homeowner can maintain the silhouette of their home.

All of the roof installations and repairs are made with the utmost care and attention to detail. As a fully licensed and insured team of roofing professionals, A1 Roofing is proud to maintain a heritage of high-level service with competitive pricing and superior quality, backed by an ironclad 100% satisfaction guarantee. With a promise like that, clients can count on A1 Roofing to deliver when they need it most.
