Garden City, NY According to Moritt Hock & Hamroff, Michael Calcagni, counsel, has been appointed to serve as co-chair of the Surrogate's Court Estates & Trusts Committee of the Nassau County Bar Association, having previously served as co-vice chair of the committee. The committee holds regular meetings to address topics relating to the area of trusts and estates law, reviews pending relevant New York State legislation and maintains an interchange of ideas with the Nassau Surrogate and staff on matters of mutual interest. Calcagni concentrates his practice on complex trusts and estates litigation in both state and federal court.

He has represented clients in multi-million dollar contested matters involving international and domestic assets, including one action featured in the New York Daily News. Calcagni also represents fiduciaries in their administration and management of estates and various types of trusts. He currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Trusts and Estates Section of the New York State Bar Association and is also a member of its Trial Lawyers Section. In addition, Calcagni also serves as a member of the Trusts and Estates Committee of the Queens County Bar Association. He earned his J.D. from Brooklyn Law School.

Additionally, Christine Price, counsel at the firm, has been chosen as a recipient of the 2022 Secured Finance Network's (SFNet) 40 Under 40 Awards. Price focuses her practice on all aspects of complex commercial lending and real estate matters. She represents numerous lending institutions and borrowers in the closing of all forms of commercial loan transactions.

including mortgage loans, construction loans, revolving credit facilities and term loans. On the lender side, she provides valuable representation to clients through the entire loan transaction process, including providing guidance on underwriting issues and collateral questions, drafting commitment letters, ensuring completion of due diligence, and drafting and negotiating complex loan documents. On the borrower side, she has helped numerous clients successfully navigate several financial relief programs made available during the COVID-19 pandemic, including the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), Restaurant Revitalization Fund (RRF), and Shuttered Venues Operators Grant (SVOG), by providing individual guidance and drafting countless articles to keep clients and the industry updated on the constantly evolving programs. She also represents borrowers in acquisition financing and construction loan facilities. Price earned her J.D. from the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University. The global award recognizes the best and the brightest rising stars in the secured finance industry. SFNet was formerly the Commercial Finance Association, the nationwide trade association in the secured lending community.
