Exton, PA Evolution Energy Partners celebrated its official rebranding to Evolution Sustainability Group. Over its many years in operation, Evolution has continuously grown its expertise and expanded its services to comprehensively meet its customers' needs across the everchanging national and global energy and sustainability landscape. The name change serves to better illustrate the complete interrelated package of services and solutions the company has developed.

The Evolution Sustainability Group family of companies collectively represent the broadest offering of energy and sustainability solutions in the industry. The family of companies that operate under the Evolution Sustainability Group umbrella includes:

Evolution ESG Partners: An ESG consultancy creating customized environmental, social, and governance (ESG) strategies and guidance to support sustainability goals.

Evolution Energy Partners: An energy procurement advisory and brokerage offering customized energy and utility procurement strategies to fit an organization's energy objectives, sustainability goals, consumption profile, and risk tolerance.

Evolution Engineering Partners: A design-build energy engineering firm specializing in turnkey energy efficiency and renewable energy projects providing strong return on investment (ROI) and immediate net positive cash flow.

As an award winning, best-in-class energy and sustainability consultancy and design-build energy engineering firm, Evolution Sustainability Group is dedicated to continuing to help its customers enjoy the benefits of proven strategies that mitigate risk, enhance stakeholder and asset value, reduce costs, and provide a foundation that increases corporate citizenship and sustainable practices.

"We believe that rebranding to Evolution Sustainability Group better reflects our complete solution set and aligns perfectly with the current and future marketplace," said Chuck Hurchalla, president and founder of Evolution. "Although the company name is changing, our specific functional solutions of energy supply, energy efficiency, and ESG consulting will continue to be led by our highly talented and experienced teams for each brand."
