

KeyBank appoint three senior mortgage bankers LeBell, Chase and Ownby

October 11, 2022 - National News

KeyBank Real Estate Capital has appointed three new senior mortgage bankers focused on loan originations through Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, HUD, CMBS, life companies, private placements, and debt funds. KeyBank's new additions to the team include:

Justin LeBell joins as senior mortgage banker responsible for originating loans in the Western region for the healthcare sector. He is based in KeyBank's Salt Lake City office and will report to John Rudolph, senior vice president at KeyBank Real Estate Capital. LeBell brings 15 years of experience in senior housing and healthcare real estate and held a previous role as vice president at Lument. He received his MBA from Duke University and his BS from the University of Utah.

Douglas Chase joins as senior mortgage banker with a focus on credit tenant lease market across the country. He reports to Michael Keach, senior vice president and investment placement program manager and is based in the firm's New York City office. He brings more than 25 years of experience focused on the credit tenant lease market, both in originations and debt placement. Previously Chase was co-founder and a managing member of Lux Net Lease. He earned his JD from Georgetown University Law Center and his BA from Yale College.

Justin Ownby joins as senior mortgage banker responsible for multifamily loan origination in the Southeast region. Based in Tampa, FL, he will report to Chris Black, senior vice president and regional production manager at KeyBank Real Estate Capital. In his previous role, Ownby served as senior director at Berkadia Commercial Mortgage and brings over 16 years of experience in multifamily lending to KeyBank. He earned his MBA from the University of Tampa and his BS from the University of Florida.

"Our new hires have a proven track record in the industry achieving notable successes by delivering for their clients throughout their careers," said Dan Baker, executive vice president and head of Commercial Mortgage at KeyBank Real Estate Capital. "As we continue to expand our platform across the country, their industry expertise will be a valuable asset to our team."
