BEB Capital

What emerging trends will drive investment and development in 2023? We expect there to be a tremendous opportunity for real estate investors who have liquidity to leverage the uncertainties in the capital markets environment for long-term benefit and wealth creation.

What was your greatest professional accomplishment or most notable project, deal, or transaction in 2022? I led the launch of BEB Lending, a platform designed to provide quick, and creative financing solutions for commercial real estate assets in primary and second markets across the U.S. The platform has proven to be successful, surpassing $100 million in capital deployed in less than two years of operation.
