

Sam Schwartz Eng. to coordinate traffic flow during WTC rebuilding

November 03, 2008 - New York City

Sam Schwartz, president and CEO of Sam Schwartz Engineering, was retained by the Port Authority to provide guidance on how to best manage the flow of thousands of trucks, cars and pedestrians that will travel around the area during the World Trade Centers' rebuilding. He also will help the Port Authority's new WTC Program Logistics Office managing site logistics between the many projects on the site.
