July 25, 2023 - Design / Build

Montrose, NY In an expansion move, Thalle Industries has launched Dakota Concrete, expanding its services to concrete products for customers in the Lower Hudson Valley while strengthening Thalle's competitive position in this key market.

Thalle Industries is handling orders and deliveries at 2099 Albany Post Rd.

"Dakota Concrete fits with what we do, and the operation is a natural extension of our business," said Thalle Industries' CEO Glenn Pacchiana. "The concrete plant has a team of young people who we want to help grow into valued members of the Thalle family."

Thalle Industries is an environmentally responsible supplier of high-quality virgin and recycled aggregate, asphalt products and brownfield fill for the construction industry. The company operates a quarry and asphalt plant in Fishkill, and a Virtual Quarry recycling center in Elmsford.

The launch of Dakota Concrete allows Thalle Industries to open a new Virtual Quarry recycling center, which will give customers from Putnam and southern Dutchess counties a new recycling option.

"We are confident that this launch provides the opportunity to expand the concrete plant's existing customer base, while providing new opportunities to employees for their growth and careers. We are committed to working with our customers to ensure that we are providing the best quality products and services at competitive prices," said Pacchiana.

The Dakota Concrete launch is the latest improvement designed to enhance the customer experience.

A 350-tons-per-hour asphalt plant opened on April 1 at the Fishkill site, and over the winter it was upgraded with the latest burner and silo technologies. During the height of the paving season, the plant can load pavement trailers and trucks within three minutes.
