

2023 Commercial Real Estate Visionaries: Wayne Lambert of Turner & Townsend

November 14, 2023 - Spotlights

Wayne Lambert
Director of Supplier Diversity

Wayne has created a go-to-market plan for equitable contractor relationships, launching a robust database of qualified businesses to build inclusive supply chains across a variety of markets, positively impacting hundreds of businesses and communities. This has transformed how our clients do business and how our company lives our values.

What recent project, transaction, or accomplishment are you most proud of?

After spending many years in the public sector, I had the opportunity to craft a new role for Turner & Townsend. It allows me to enhance the company's industry-leading services by involving diverse businesses. This further develops our great company culture while continuing to positively impact local communities.