Steward and Fundrise

Dan has created the first ever regenerative “crowdfarming” platform. The projects Steward chooses are extremely intentional to promote environmental and economic stewardship through their financial support. Steward has now successfully funded over 85 regenerative farms, totaling $25 million in financing.

What recent project, transaction, or accomplishment are you most proud of?

Our partnership with Old Salt, a group of 5th generation Montana ranchers, is my most proud project. The partnership started over two years ago and has evolved into a fully integrated meat company. Where they can reinvest in themselves and their community to keep products and profits at home.
