

2023 Year in Review: Sabrina Leung, Crystal Window & Door Systems

December 26, 2023 - Spotlights

Sabrina Leung
Architectural Sales & Engineering Manager
Crystal Window & Door Systems

What was your greatest professional accomplishment or most notable project, deal, or transaction in 2023? Crystal's new Series 2700 Aluminum Window line offers superior energy efficiency, easily meeting NYC stringent energy codes. This affordable window was designed, tested, and produced in record time, thanks to our in-house engineering capabilities. The window's many features and options make it an instant favorite with architects and owners.

What emerging trends will drive investment and development in 2024? Building owners will be investing in building energy upgrades to comply with Local Law 97. Replacing older windows with new energy efficient windows is not only a great way to save energy, but it enhances comfort for occupants, saves maintenance costs, and increases property value.
