

The benefits of joining the Tenant-in-Common Association (TICA)

November 14, 2008 - Financial Digest

Established in 2003, the Tenant-In-Common Association (TICA) is a non-profit organization focused on the success of the fractional ownership industry. TICA promotes the highest ethical standards and provides education and information to its members and the entire tenant-in-common (TIC) community. TICA is one of the only trade organizations to represent professionals involved in TIC investments.

TICA has an active membership of 600 TIC professionals.

TICA members include:

- * Sponsors
- * Broker-dealers
- * Accountants
- * Attorneys
- * Mortgage bankers
- * Institutional lenders
- * Qualified intermediaries
- * Registered representatives
- * Other affiliated professionals

Membership Benefits

* Professional Development:

Interact with some of the leading TIC professionals in the industry via TICA's annual conferences and symposiums, as well as serving on a TICA committee.

* Education: TICA provides basic training for members and hosts conferences and symposiums to enhance member's knowledge.

* Information: Members of TICA receive quarterly newsletters with relevant TIC information and industry news, white papers, alerts on some of the hottest legislative happenings, industry issues, listing on the website membership locator map and more.

* Representation: TICA acts as the industry watchdog and alerts members of the current and proposed regulations. Members have the opportunity to have their voice heard in government.

* TelSpan WorldWide Conferencing: TelSpan offers audio, video and web conferencing, online event registration, and services for webcasting and podcasting with guaranteed reliability, personalized training and the availability of a personal event advisor. All of this coupled with 20 years in the industry makes TelSpan one of the best choices for your conferencing needs.

For more information about becoming a member of TICA, visit www.ticassoc.org or call (866) 353-8422.