

Law of TRITEC R.E. honored with Suffolk County Public Service Award

February 13, 2024 - Long Island

Shown are Steve Bellone and Kevin Law.

Hauppauge, NY TRITEC Real Estate Company partner and executive vice president, Kevin Law, has been awarded the H. Lee Dennison Public Service Award. The award, presented by former Suffolk County executive Steve Bellone, is the highest honor bestowed on an individual for extraordinary and exemplary service and dedication to the people of Suffolk County.

A proclamation presented by Bellone said, "Kevin Law's illustrious career spans both public and private sectors, showcasing a commitment to public service that transcends political boundaries. As an advisor to county executives and governors, Law has played a pivotal role in shaping the trajectory of Suffolk County. His influence extends beyond party lines and government levels, making him a rare and impactful public servant.”

Law served as the director of real estate for Suffolk County and later as the chief deputy county executive, overseeing investments in housing and open space preservation. His steadfast leadership was instrumental in guiding New York’s largest suburban county through significant initiatives that have left a lasting positive impact.

In addition to his roles within Suffolk County, the proclamation said, “Law has held key positions in various high-level public and private organizations, earning him the moniker “Mr. Long Island.” As the CEO of the Long Island Association, the region’s largest business organization, he led the coalition that successfully shepherded the transformative Third Track project to approval. Law’s extensive contributions include serving as LIPA CEO, Long Island Housing Partnership chairman, Stony Brook University council chairman, and NYS Empire State Development chairman. Furthermore, he co-chaired the Long Island Regional Economic Development Council.”

Law’s dedication to the betterment of Long Island and his multifaceted contributions to both the public and private sectors have solidified his legacy as a visionary leader. TRITEC Real Estate Company congratulates Kevin Law on this well-deserved honor and looks forward to continuing to benefit from his invaluable leadership.