

LaDuke of CBRE Upstate NY earns SIOR designation

September 10, 2024 - Upstate New York

Cory LaDuke

Syracuse, NY Cory LaDuke of CBRE Upstate NY has earned the SIOR designation awarded by the Society of Industrial and Office Realtors (SIOR).

LaDuke is a licensed associate real estate broker with nine years of experience advising business owners and investors across Upstate New York with their commercial real estate needs. LaDuke is also a board member with Launch CNY, a nonprofit providing individualized services to people with learning challenges.

To achieve the SIOR designation, LaDuke completed over five years of creditable experience in the field of office real estate; met stringent education requirements; and demonstrated professional ability, competency, ethical conduct, and personal integrity. SIOR enforces a strict code of ethics and requires designees to complete its ethics course within their first three years of membership.

“As an SIOR member since 1990, I can attest that this is a well-deserved recognition of Cory’s dedication to his craft and the professionalism he provides each of his clients and colleagues,” said Richard Sleasman, president of CBRE Upstate NY.

“Cory has been a tremendous addition to our brokerage team serving Central New York and his pursuit of the SIOR designation is a symbol of the dedicated service and high standard we aim to provide our clients,” said Darby Fishkin, chief operating officer of CBRE Upstate NY.

SIOR is a Washington, DC-based international professional organization of more than 3,900 commercial real estate professionals whom have earned the coveted SIOR designation.

CBRE Upstate NY now has a total of 7 professionals with the SIOR designation among its advisory and transaction services team.
