

Commodore Construction appoints Netanel chief executive officer

August 26, 2025 - Design / Build

Doron Netanel

Mount Vernon, NY Commodore Construction (Commodore) appointed Doron Netanel as its new chief executive officer.

The appointment was made by Commodore's chairman and co-founder, Gerry Boyle.

In his new role, Netanel will be responsible for overseeing the New York based company's current operations, strategic growth initiatives and its expanding pipeline of construction projects. He will also lead Commodore's future development strategies which include restructuring its business lines and augmenting its already high-performing team of professionals through additional key hires.

Netanel brings more than two decades of industry experience to his new role at Commodore. He has held various positions throughout his career in construction, real estate development, public-private partnerships and IT at both private and publicly traded companies, and most recently served as CFO with international construction company Electra USA, where he oversaw the financial, compliance, insurance, and IT operations for the organization.

"This is an exciting time for both Commodore and our industry, and we are delighted to have Doron onboard as our new CEO," said Boyle. "We believe this is the right time for an organizational 'reset' as we focus on expanding while still maintaining the entrepreneurial spirit that has been our strength since the company first launched. Doron's international experience and in-depth knowledge of the construction sector, combined with the strong industry relationships he has built, will allow him to hit the ground running in his new role. He is the right person to lead Commodore into the future by further driving our construction work superiority and establishing an enhanced corporate culture that will truly set us apart."

"I couldn't be more optimistic about the future of Commodore," said Netanel. "The opportunity to head up a company with an established reputation for excellence that's poised for market expansion is what appealed most to me. I look forward to continuing Co
