

BuildingsNY and GreenBuildingsNY 2009: June 16-17 at Jacob K. Javits Convention Ctr.

June 08, 2009 - Owners Developers & Managers

BuildingsNY provides the New York metro building owner, manager, architect, contractor and engineer with the products, services and knowledge to stay competitive in today's challenging times. BuildingsNY is all about efficiency. See what you need, buy what you need ... all in one place.

You will find amazing deals right on the show floor from more than 500 exhibiting companies and see the industry's broadest array of what is new in building maintenance, renovation and restoration including: roofing, flooring, plumbing, HVAC, pest control, lighting and more! One day in this building will greatly improve your buildings.

BuildingsNY is officially sponsored by The Associated Builders and Owners of Greater New York and is the largest New York Metro building event.

Two Events Under One Roof!

Co-located with:

GreenBuildingsNY 2009

Greener Buildings. Greener Planet. Greener Future.

GreenBuildingsNY, now in its second year, has been shaped by the 30-year pedigree of the co-located BuildingsNY event. Taking its cues from the advancing green movement, GreenBuildingsNY showcases green and sustainable solutions and materials for existing and new commercial, residential and industrial buildings in the New York metro area. GreenBuildingsNY is the only New York metro event focused on green and sustainable products for the building and design community. The event provides essential tools, resources and education to green up buildings and businesses. GreenBuildingsNY will feature more of the green products, materials and services that the market is demanding in order to keep up with the green tidal wave. In addition, GreenBuildingsNY provides risk-free return-on-investment through energy efficient solutions and available rebate packages.

New this year!

Intelligent Buildings Arena (IBA), sponsored by the Continental Automated Buildings Association, will be featured at BuildingsNY and GreenBuildingsNY. IBA showcases the buildings automation systems and technologies that interconnect security, fire safety and suppression, HVAC, telecommunications, energy management, lighting, and access control - all while minimizing costs and maximizing efficiency. IBA focuses on the advancement of emerging technologies and integrated commercial and residential systems.
