

Company Profiles - LEHR Construction Corp.

August 07, 2009 - Owners Developers & Managers

LEHR was founded in 1979 under the premise that if they focused solely on their clients' needs and worked diligently to provide superior service, their company would become an industry leader. That theory proved to be successful as LEHR has become one of the premier interior construction management/general contracting firms in New York.

By working diligently with all project team members through all phases of design and construction, they have compiled an unblemished record of client satisfaction. In their 25 year history, LEHR has never failed to complete a project as scheduled.

Today, they continue the legacy and traditions established by their founders a quarter-century ago. Their client's confidence and trust in them is never taken for granted. They clearly understand that they must earn that privilege on a daily basis and every assignment. Their record of consistent completions on schedule within a guaranteed budget has made LEHR one of the most respected builders in New York.
