March 05, 2010 - Shopping Centers

Alpha Real Estate Advisors is well equipped to implement short and long term strategies. In addition to the vast experience of each team member, their complementary skill sets merge to create a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts. The principals have worked together successfully over many years creating long lasting property values.

Financial institutions need the expert guidance that Alpha can provide to assist in managing these non-performing loans. Alpha has a unique advantage due to the high level and varying, complementary expertise of the principals: Each has over 25 years of experience in the shopping center industry. All are senior executives in the fields of management, finance, administration, law, leasing and marketing. Each has worked on all types of retail developments across the U.S. including regional malls, entertainment centers, lifestyle centers, power centers, outlet centers, neighborhood and community centers and mixed use developments. The entire team has familiarity with retailer needs and extensive contacts in the industry.
